Dear JOASH JESURUN ALFRED JEEVARANJAN,

Your application for a visit visa to the United Kingdom has been refused.

What this means for you

Any future UK visa applications you make will be considered on their individual merits, however you are likely to be refused unless the circumstances of your application change.

In relation to this decision, there is no right of appeal or right to administrative review.

The reasons for this decision are set out on the next page.

Yours sincerely,

DB
SVH

The Data Protection Act 2018 governs how we use personal data. For details of how we will use your personal information and who we may share it with please see our Privacy Notice for the Border, Immigration and Citizenship system at

REASONS FOR REFUSAL

You have applied for a visa to visit the UK.

In deciding whether you meet the requirements of Appendix V: Visitor of the Immigration Rules (<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/immigration-rules/immigration-rules-appendix-v-visitor>), I have considered:

- your application and any additional relevant information you have provided with it
- your immigration history

The decision

I have refused your application for a visit visa because I am not satisfied that you meet the requirements of paragraph(s) V4.2 of Appendix V: Immigration Rules for Visitors because:

- You state you intend to visit the UK for 22 days to visit your parents and siblings. In assessing your eligibility for entry to the UK, I acknowledge the circumstances of your visit and I have considered all the documents and information submitted with your visa application and the information you have provided about your personal and financial circumstances in your country of residence.
- You state you are a student with no income and that your father will be funding your visit. In support of your application you have provided documents from your sponsor, student documents and a number of bank documents. I also acknowledge the letter provided by your representative in support of your application.
- In consideration of your economic ties, whilst I acknowledge the student documents provided, I note the statements made by you in your visa application form whereby you state that you do not own your own home and the documents provided do not demonstrate you have any fixed assets in your name which subsequently undermines the economic ties you have evidenced to your home country and therefore I am not satisfied you have demonstrated circumstances which would encourage you to depart the UK at the end of your proposed visit.
- I have made careful consideration of your family ties to both the UK and your home country. In making my consideration, I note the statements made by you in your visa application form regarding the presence of your grandmother in your home country. However, whilst I acknowledge your representative's letter mentions your grandmother's birth certificate and residency certificate have been provided, I am unable to identify these documents within your supporting information. Therefore, the information provided with your application does not support your statements, nor demonstrate the presence of your grandmother in your home country. By contrast, in making my consideration of your familial ties to the UK, I note the presence of your parents and siblings who all reside in the UK and I also note you state within your application that you are financially dependant upon your parents. Therefore this, in conjunction with the concerns relating to your economic ties stated above, gives me reason to further doubt that you will depart the UK at the end of the period stated by you.

- Whilst I acknowledge you have provided documents to demonstrate ties to your country of residence, given the above concerns raised, on the balance of probabilities, I am not satisfied that you are genuinely seeking entry for a purpose that is permitted under the visitor route and that you will leave the UK at the end of your visit. Your application is therefore refused under paragraph V4.2 (a) and (c) of the Immigration Rules.
